204 626 domestic newspapers are Communistic. The most important of these is Rahva Hääl ('The People's Voice').

214 771 The major publishing firms are nationalized and all publication is centralized and controlled by the State Publishing House (Riiklik Kirjastus), with its seat in Tallinn. It has several sections: literature, art, political science, childrens' literature, etc. There are no private printers and the former commercial firms have received new names: Postimees at Tartu, for example, is now Tartu's Communist. There is no information concerning their output.

207 There is no information about the number of privately-owned radio receivers, their type or reception. It is known that Estonian guerrillas, metsavennad, had their own receivers and transmitters. How many of them are left at the 207 present time is not known, since the number of metsavennad has been greatly reduced.